

Ladies and gentlemen of the FCC,
It would be unfortunate if LPFM stations were given the priority over FM translators. Stations, like KLOVE, may be forced off the air and I firmly believe this would have adverse consequences upon our society. I can make such a big claim, because of the effect KLOVE has upon the attitude of its listeners. KLOVE is known for being both positive and encouraging. It positively affects the attitudes of individual listeners which help to strengthen the moral fiber of our society. Compare this to the long-term effect those "shock jocks", like Howard Stern, make on society and we have the opposite effect. The countless lives affected by this station and its uplifting message of the Gospel of Jesus Christ would be lost and this may have devastating consequences upon individuals and communities. The FCC has a chance to prevent this from occurring. Please consider carefully what you are about to do, because this decision has long-term consequences.
